A DRESS FOR MENTAL DYSPEPTIC, AND A CURB FOR HYPOCHONDRIA, HY-POCHRYST, OR ANY COMPLAINT OF A HY ORDER.

COMPILED BY OUR SERIES EDITOR.

OUR SHAKESPEARIAN GALLERY. BY THE "FAT CONTRIBUTOR."

RICHARD III. Richard Third was one of the kings of England who had a wonderfully ready faculty of bereaving the family of any person he didn't like.

Richard wasn't always king. He belonged to the royal family, to be sure; but he was poor at one time, and obtained a scanty livelihood by publishing an almanac.

Growing weary of the Almanac business, he determined to be king. He thought he could run a throne as well as his brother Edward, who then had a monopoly in that line.

Richard had a love affair about this time that produced a great deal of gossip among the court circles—that is to say, among the circles that court.

A ROMAN QUESTION.—"If uneasy lies," the head that wears a crown," what must the Pope's head suffer from wearing three crowns?

How to COOK A GOOSE.—Suspend yourself in front of a brick fire, and receive carefully and regularly until you are done brown.

TO THE BEYOLVENT.—Judy knows a man so hard up that he even sleeps on tick.

ALL THE DIFFERENCE. I CANNOT let you link your fate in such a fate as mine; The rapture of a wedded state is at present resigned to you.

LONG, long ago I had a thought. Of making you my wife. Since then experience has taught The lesson of a life.

A GRIEVANCE.—A. B. A. and First Class man encloses us the accompanying paragraph, and complains bitterly of its wording.

THE ATTRACTION OF PENIENSIM.—Fenianism dates much farther back than most people suppose. We would remind our readers that when Herodias' daughter was living there was a head-sent her.

FROM THE HIGHLANDS.—The Flower of the Forest—its stalk. CONFIDENTIAL EXORDIUMS. THE POPE observed that he had reason to complain.

are plentiful and cheap. Can this be owing to the late Pan-Anglo-American? In Dr. Mayon's spelling-book, the juveniles are informed that the fish of the pig "produces" ought not the youngsters to be informed at the same time that it "produces" nightmare?

WHAT NEXT?—A man, otherwise an excellent fellow, was cruel enough the other day, in our presence, to take a lady's face to pieces. What books would most appropriately be read while you're eating boiled mackerel? The works of Fenel-on.

A REASON WHY YOUNG LADIES SHOULD AVOID RITALALUM.—It makes them fast, and cross withal. DOING AS ROMAN DOES.—Occupying oneself. "STILL WATERS."—Whiskies.

FROM JUDY. THE AETHYSIANIAN QUESTION—"GRUEL" FOR THEODORE. Gruel for Theodore! Give it to him hot; Mix it with rockets, and put in hot shot; Flavor the dose with salt-petre a trifle; Stir it up with the spoon, the stream, and the moor.

Gruel for Theodore! Give it to him strong; Try a topedoo—can't do it wrong. Here's the prescription; see what it said—"Recipe—Powder and ounces of lead."

Gruel for Theodore! Give it to him hot—promote perspiration; Give it to him strong, and the doses increase; Perhaps it may end in a happy release. Gruel for Theodore, savage and cruel; He would have his way—give him his gruel.

TAKE NOTICE.—On picking up recently a visitor's guide to the great metropolis, we happened to read—"Amongst the many places of interest which the country visitor should not neglect to see is Billingsgate, the celebrated fish market. The best time to see the market to perfection is about five o'clock in the morning."

SINGULAR BLESSINGS.—The Standard of Wednesday mentions the curious fact that on a certain day "there was not a single prisoner in the Tennessee House of Correction."

SHARP.—A gentleman, on meeting a friend a day or two ago, asked his opinion about the "Roman Question." "Oh! I hang the 'Roman Question,'" replied the person addressed; "I'm tired of it; I wish it were at the bottom of the sea!"

MATCH TMS.—Why should congress manufacturers be considered adepts at the art of self-defense? Because they are used to boxing matches.

HOW TO COOK A GOOSE.—Suspend yourself in front of a brick fire, and receive carefully and regularly until you are done brown.

TO THE BEYOLVENT.—Judy knows a man so hard up that he even sleeps on tick.

ALL THE DIFFERENCE. I CANNOT let you link your fate in such a fate as mine; The rapture of a wedded state is at present resigned to you.

mentors of the British Empire; and whereas it is considered very polite and wise to presuppose that the term Fenian includes the word "Irishman," in order that, by means of a series of judicious blunders, a national prejudice against the Sister Isle may be so stimulated as to create an Irish sympathy for an American conspiracy.

Arrest everybody who appears to have the brogue. Take the names and addresses of all the members of the Board of Green Cloth, and watch the movements of the Green Park. Warn the comic Irishman at all the Minor Theatres, and obtain a warrant for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Dion Boucault.

Track out the man who first hinted the Moon was made of Green Cheese, and follow ladies in poplin generally. Seize every Irish bull. Note the movements of Mr. Harry Emanuel, and find out what he does with his Emeralds. Summon every one who has any green in his eye.

Arrest Mr. Truefitt, or any other renowned head center, and all those politically involved in the revival of the Colleen Bawn. Suspect everybody generally, and accustom yourself to swearing fearlessly and liberally in all cases of identification.

A woman in Detroit has been arrested for smuggling tea in her stockings.—Express. In North Carolina the women carry nails in their stockings.—Raleigh Progress.

Nothing wonderful. The ladies of Forsyth carry calves in their stockings.—Observer. And one of our ladies carries her corn in hers.—Rome Commercial.

The ladies in this vicinity who sympathize with Andy Johnson in his fight with the Radicals, carry V-toes in theirs, which are seldom passed over their heads.—Vir. Sun. All the women down our way carry splendid elegies (legs) in their stockings.—Kentucky News.

Down this way some of them not only carry calves in their stockings, but also bran to fatten them.—Mexico Messenger. Almost all our ladies hereabouts carry Bunyan's works in their stockings. We consider this a soci-dologer.—Union Sentinel.

The ladies of Soranton are not very particular what they put into their stockings—keeping their souls there, they are so awkward that they often "get their foot in it."—Scranton Register. We'll take "stock-in" the foregoing. Our ladies have been known to place delicate cords and happiest veins in theirs, while on the light fantastic toe.—Binghamton Republican.

Some of our factory girls carry holes in theirs, principally, and don't seem to care a darn either.—Manchester Daily Union. Prithce tell me, Dimple-Chin, At what age does love begin? "On" the rosy lips reply, "I don't feel that I'm in love."

"Is so long I can't remember; Ask some younger miss than I!" Tell, O tell me, Grizzled-Face, Do your heart and head keep pace? When does hoary Love expire, When do frosts put out the fire?

"Ah!" the wise old lips reply, "You may as well ask at length may die; But of love I can't foretoken; Ask some older Sage than I!" An old bachelor who had become melancholy and poetical, wrote some verses for the village paper, in which he expressed the hope that the time would soon come when he should "rest calmly within a shroud."

With a weeping willow by my side; but to his inexpressible horror it came out in print. "When I shall rest calmly within a shroud, With a weeping willow by my side."—A gentleman, one evening, was seated near a lovely woman, when the company around were proposing conundrums to each other. Turning to his companion, he said: "Why is a lady unlike a mirror?"

"Because," said the rule fellow, "a mirror reflects without speaking; a lady speaks without reflecting." "Very good," she said. "Now answer me. Why is a man unlike a mirror?" "I cannot tell you." "Because the mirror is polished and the man is not." "Figures can't lie," says the arithmetician. "You can't say that of women's figures in these days," responds the slanderous dresser-maker.

"My opinion is," said a philosophical old lady of much experience and observation, "that any man as dies upon washing day does it of pure spite." Forgive me, but I needs must press One question, since I love you so; And kiss me, darling, if it's Yes! And, darling, kiss me if it's No!
